Numb. 15194.

The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

Downing-Street, October 15, 1799.

DISPATCHES, of which the following are Copies, have been received by the Right Honorable Henry Dundas, One of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, from Lieutenant-General Trigge and Vice-Admiral the Right Honorable Lord Hugh Seymour, Commanders in Chief of His Majesty's Land and Sea Forces in the Leeward and Windward Charibbee Islands.

Head-Quarters, Paramaribo, August 23, 1799.

SIR,

IT affords me very particular Satisfaction to have the Honor of acquainting you, that the Colony of Surinam surrendered to His Majesty the 20th Instant; and that the British Troops took Possession of Fort New Amsterdam, the principal Fortress, on the following Day.

On receiving your Instructions of the 14th of June by Lord Hugh Seymour, I lost no Time in making such Arrangements as were necessary for collecting Troops from Grenada and St. Lucia, which, with those I proposed taking from Martinique, would complete the Number directed to be employed in the Reduction of this Settlement.

The Admiral conceiving it advisable to dispatch Captain Ekins in the Amphitrite to examine this Coast and prevent any Vessels getting in with Intelligence, it afforded me an Opportunity of sending Lieutenant-Colonel Shipley, Commanding Engineer, to make such Observations as might be useful on the Occasion.

The Troops being assembled at Fort Royal, embarked the 30th of last Month on board the different Ships appointed to receive them, and the Squadron, consisting of Two Line of Battle Ships and Five Frigates, with some small Craft carrying Stores and Provisions, put to Sea on the 31st Ultimo.

On the 11th of this Month we made the Coast to Windward of the River Surinam, and fell in with the Amphitrite Frigate, which had been sent forward from Martinique for the Purposes I have already mentioned. She was afterwards on the 12th and again on the 14th ordered to reconnoitre the Coast, and ascertain with Precision the Strength of the Post at Bram's Point, which defends the Entrance of the River. This Service was executed by Lieutenant-Colonel Shipley with great Zeal and Judgment; and, had it been necessary to effect a Landing, his Observations would have proved of the most essential Service.

Captain Ekins of the Amphitrite, and Lieutenant Senhouse commanding the Requin, were generally employed as Parties of Observation, and have great Merit for the Zeal and Activity which they evinced in the Execution of the fatiguing and arduous Duty entrusted to them.

The Squadron stood in towards Surinam on the 16th Instant, and came to Anchor off the Mouth of the River that Afternoon, when it was agreed between Lord Hugh Seymour and myself to summon the Colony to surrender, which was accordingly done in the Evening. But, as the Governor requested Forty-eight Hours to consider the Proposals, his Answer was not received till the 18th, which was delivered by a Deputation from the Colony, composed of some Military Officers and Gentlemen, Inhabitants of the Settlement, who were empowered to treat with us generally on the Terms proposed, but not authorized to conclude the Capitulation finally, the Ratification of the several Articles being reserved for the Governor.

It being impossible, from the Shallowness of the Water, to proceed up the River with the Line of Battle Ships, a Disposition was made on the Morning of the 19th to remove the Troops from the Prince of Wales and Invincible to the small Craft, which was immediately effected; when they, with Four Frigates, (the Admiral and myself being in One of them,) got under Weigh, and in the Afternoon anchored Two Miles above the Entrance of the River. A Detachment of the 60th Regiment was then landed, and took Possession of the Redoubts and Battery at Bram's Point, called Peit Keyn, which had been previously abandoned.

In the Situation now described, the Squadron continued till the Night of the 20th Instant, when the Capitulation was returned finally ratified and confirmed by the Governor, which enabled us to proceed on the following Day with the Ships and small Craft lying within the River, to Fort New Amsterdam, which was then taken Possession of by Four Hundred Men of the 5th Battalion of the 60th, under the Command of Major Dorsner, the Acting Adjutant-General, Major Thomas having also landed with this Detachment.

The Garriſon of Fort New Amſterdam conſiſted of about Seven Hundred and Fifty Men, Five Hundred of whom were the Walloon Guards, and Two Hundred and Fifty Dutch Troops, who were allowed to march out with the Honors of War.

On the 22d Inſtant, the Redoubt Leyden, and Battery Friderici, the Redoubt and Battery Purmerent, Fort Zeelandia, and the Town of Paramaribo, the Capital of this Settlement, were taken Poſſeſſion of by the Britiſh Troops in His Majeſty's Name.

It became impoſſible from the Diſtance of the River Marawina and Saramaca, to take immediate Poſſeſſion of the ſeveral Poſts thereon ſituated, but the Troops who formerly occupied them having ſince entered into His Majeſty's Service, now hold them for the Britiſh Government.

I am very happy to be enabled to add that the Troops found in this Colony, as well as the Inhabitants, evince the utmoſt Satisfaction, and appear perfectly contented and happy in the Change that has taken place.

I have alſo great Pleaſure in acquainting you that our Troops landed in perfect Health, which is in a great Meaſure to be attributed to the Attention they received from the Navy whilſt on board Ship.

My Knowledge of the Officers and Men employed on this Expedition warrants me in ſaying, that, had there been Occaſion for greater Exertions than were found neceſſary, His Majeſty would have had every Reaſon to be ſatisfied with their Services: as it is, many muſt be content to have their Merits unknown till ſome more trying Occaſion ſhall preſent itſelf; for on this we muſt acknowledge, that the Acquiſition of this valuable Colony is to be attributed to the Senſe entertained by the People of the Advantage of having the Exerciſe of their Religion, the Execution of their Laws, and the Enjoyment of their Property ſecured by the Britiſh Government, added to the Abhorrence in which they have long held French Principles and French Oppreſſion, rather than to the Effect of our Exertions or the Dread of our Force.—From theſe Cauſes I am perſuaded His Majeſty will find the Inhabitants loyal Subjects, and the Military who enter into his Service faithful Servants.

I am particularly indebted to Vice-Admiral Lord Hugh Seymour for his cordial Co-operation during the whole of this Undertaking, and have great Pleaſure in acknowledging my Obligations to the Navy in general.

In the various Arrangements ſince my Arrival in the Weſt Indies, on this and every other Occaſion, I have derived very eſſential Aſſiſtance from the Knowledge and Experience of Major Thomas, the Acting Adjutant-General, acquired by his having ſerved the greater Part of the laſt and preſent Wars in this Country.

Incloſed I have the Honor to tranſmit to you a Return of the Ordnance found in the ſeveral Forts and Batteries.

I have charged my Aide-de Camp Captain Browne with this Diſpatch, who will have the Honor of giving you ſuch further Information as may be required relative to the Surrender of this Colony.

I have the Honor to be, &c. &c. &c.

SIR,

INcloſed we have the Honor to tranſmit to you a Copy of the Articles of Capitulation on which this Colony ſurrendered to His Majeſty, together with the Papers relating to the Particulars thereof.

We have the Honor to be, &c.

THO. TRIGGE, Lieutenant-General.
HUGH SEYMOUR, Vice-Admiral.

Right Honorable Henry Dundas, &c. &c. &c.

BY Lieutenant-General Thomas Trigge and Vice-Admiral the Right Honorable Lord Hugh Seymour, Commanders in Chief of His Britannic Majeſty's Land and Sea Forces employed at the Windward and Leeward Iſlands:

A Squadron of His Britannic Majeſty's Ships being arrived upon the Coaſt of Surinam with a very conſiderable Military Force, we ſeize the firſt Moment to offer Terms ſo evidently for the Advantage of the Colony placed under your Command, that we truſt they will immediately be ſubſcribed to; and particularly as the ſimilar Mark of our Sovereign's gracious Diſpoſition has been productive of every poſſible Happineſs and Advantage to your late Siſter Colony of Demerara.

We have ſent Captain William Cayley, Senior Captain of the Squadron, and Lieutenant-Colonel the Baron de Rottenberg, commanding a Battalion on this Expedition, with theſe Terms for your Conſideration, and ſhall wait Twenty-four Hours for your Deciſion on this Subject. Should the Offer made on our Part in the Name of His Britannic Majeſty not be accepted, you muſt yourſelf be anſwerable for the Effuſion of Blood and the Loſs of Property which may be the Conſequence of Terms not being attended to in Time, which are formed for the general Welfare of the Colony over which you are placed, as well as the Comfort and Happineſs of its Individuals.

Dated on board His Majeſty's Ship Prince of Wales, off Bram's Point, Auguſt 16, 1799.

ARTICLES of CAPITULATION agreed upon between Lieutenant General Thomas Trigge and Vice-Admiral the Right Honorable Lord Hugh Seymour, Commanders in Chief of His Britannic Majeſty's Land and Sea Forces employed at the Windward and Leeward Charibbee Iſlands, and Jurian François Friderici, Governor General of the Colony of Surinam and its Dependencies, Major-General of Infantry, and Commander in Chief by Sea and Land in the ſaid Colony;

According to which the ſaid Colony and its Dependencies ſhall be put under the immediate Protection of His Britannic Majeſty, in Conformity to the Summons which has been ſent by the ſaid Commanders in Chief, dated on board His Majeſty's Ship the Prince of Wales, off Bram's Point, the 16th Auguſt 1799, and the Additional Articles propoſed by the ſaid Governor-General, and agreed to by the ſaid Commanders in Chief the 19th Auguſt 1799.

Art. I. The Colony of Surinam with its Dependencies ſhall immediately be placed under the Protection of His Britannic Majeſty, and ſhall quietly and peaceably ſubmit to His Government.

Art. II. The Inhabitants of the Colony ſhall enjoy full Security to their Perſons and the free Exerciſe of their Religion, with the immediate and entire Poſſeſſion of their private Property whether on Shore or Afloat, ſuch only being excepted as may appear to belong to the Subjects of the King of Spain or to thoſe of the French Republic; the ancient Laws and Uſages which have hitherto been obſerved in the Colony reſpecting Property continuing in Force.

Art. III. All Ships of War, Artillery, Proviſions, and Stores in the Public Magazines and Warehouſes, as well as the Effects of every Deſcription belonging to the Public ſhall be given up to His Britannic Majeſty in the State they now are, regular Liſts being immediately taken by Officers appointed for this Purpoſe by each of the Contracting Parties.

Art. IV. All the Debts of the Colony which may exiſt at the Moment of theſe Terms being acceded to, ſhall be cleared by the Produce of the Taxes and Impoſts of the ſaid Colony, or by its Revenues.

Art. V. No Change whatſoever ſhall take place in the Laws of the Colony, without it ſhall hereafter appear for the mutual Advantage, and meet with the Concurrence of the Parties intereſted on that ſubject.

Art. VI. In caſe the Colony of Surinam remains in the Poſſeſſion of His Britannic Majeſty at the Concluſion of a General Peace, it ſhall enjoy every Right and every commercial Privilege enjoyed by the Britiſh Colonies in the Weſt Indies.

Art. VII. The Troops now in the Colony of Surinam, as well as the Officers belonging to the different Corps ſerving under its preſent Government, may, if they wiſh it, enter into His Britannic Majeſty's Service, on the ſame Footing in reſpect to Appointments and Pay as the Reſt of his Army, provided they take the Oath of Allegiance and Fidelity to His Majeſty, and engage to ſerve him where their Services may be required. Seamen will likewiſe be admitted into His Britannic Majeſty's Service, and will be ſure to receive every poſſible Encouragement.

Art. VIII. The Perſons employed in the Civil Adminiſtration of the Colony who ſhall be recommended for their good Conduct, may, on requeſting it, continue in their preſent Offices while their Behaviour is proper, and that it accords with the Oath of Fidelity and Allegiance to His Britannic Majeſty, which they will be required to take. But the Command of the Troops muſt be placed in the Hands of the Britiſh Officer who ſhall be named by His Majeſty, or by the Commander in Chief of his Troops employed in the Weſt Indies.

Dated on board His Majeſty's Ship Amphitrite, in the River Surinam, the 20th Auguſt 1799.

ADDITIONS and EXPLANATIONS propoſed by His Excellency the Governor-General of the Colony of Surinam, J. F. Friderici, reſpecting the Articles of Capitulation propoſed by their Excellencies Lieutenant-General Thomas Trigge and Vice-Admiral the Right Honorable Lord Hugh Seymour, &c. &c. &c.

Art. I. That the Offer made reſpecting the ſecure Enjoyment of private Property ſhall be confirmed, with no other Exceptions than thoſe contained in the Summons.

Anſwer.—Already agreed to.

Art. II. That the Trade of Neutral Powers ſhall be continued on the ſame Footing on which it now is, eſpecially with reſpect to the Americans, to whom the Inhabitants of the Colony have great Obligations.

Anſwer.—Already agreed to, as far as is neceſſary to place the Colony of Surinam on the ſame Footing as that of Demarara. The Propoſal made in Favor of the Americans cannot be acceded to, but ſhall be tranſmitted to the Britiſh Government, whoſe favorable Diſpoſition towards America cannot be doubted.

Art. III. That the Officers and Soldiers who are deſirous of entering into the Service of his Britannic Majeſty, ſhall be employed during the preſent War in the Defence of this Colony, and that thoſe who do not chuſe to enter into His Majeſty's Service ſhall be allowed to remain in the Colony as private Perſons, or to go to any other Place.

Anſwer.—This Requeſt cannot be granted conſonantly with our Inſtructions; but it is ſo reaſonable, and is at the ſame Time ſo much what the Commander in Chief wiſhes, that there can be little Doubt but the Object of the Troops on this Point will be accompliſhed. The Troops which have been raiſed and continued at Demarara, is a Proof of this. The latter Part of this Article, reſpecting the Soldiers who do not wiſh to enter into his Britannic Majeſty's Service, is granted.

Art. IV. That Veſſels and every Thing neceſſary ſhall be provided to tranſport the Walloon Guards now in the Service of this Colony to One of the Ports of Spain in Europe; and that in other Reſpects they ſhall be treated according to the Stipulations entered into with them.

Anſwer.—Being uncertain of the Number to which the Walloon Guards amount, and ignorant of the Means of tranſporting them from the Colony, it is impoſſible to fix upon any preciſe Conveyance for them; but the Spirit of the Requeſt will be conformed to, and One Hundred and Fifty or Two Hundred of them ſhall immediately be removed either to Spain, or to One of its Colonies; it being underſtood that both Officers and Men are to be conſidered Priſoners of War, and that they are not to ſerve againſt Great Britain until regularly exchanged.

Art. V. That the Troops at preſent under the Orders of the Governor-General of the Colony, ſhall, on giving up the Forts in which they are, march out with the Honors of War, and ground their Arms on the Glacis of the Forts, by Command from their own Officers; and that they ſhall in other Reſpects be treated with the Attention they have deſerved by their good Conduct and Attention to the Colony.

Anſwer.—Granted.

Art. VI. The uſual Honors of War, of firing their Guns before they ſtrike their Colours, ſhall be allowed to the Men of War in the Colony.

Anſwer.—Granted.

Art. VII. In what Time is the Article relative to private Property to be underſtood?

Anſwer.—On the Subject of Property it will be right to obſerve, that the Habitations as well as Property of Individuals will be equally reſpected, whether they are preſent in the Colony or not; ſuch only being excepted from our Protection as are now ſerving againſt Great Britain. Property of that Deſcription will be put in Sequeſtration until Inſtructions are received from the Britiſh Government on that Subject. The ſame Rule will be obſerved towards French Proprietors, who may be reſident in France or any of its Dependencies.
